Delivering for our Community

As we have commenced a new year it is timely to look back at 2016 and what the Community Council has been doing this year. Reflecting on the past months it has been another busy year for the Community Council. I was deeply honoured to be asked by my fellow Councillors to serve a consecutive period as Chairman. I must thank my fellow Councillors for their support during the year and the time they freely give up to undertake their duties as Councillors.

The year has seen some new members of staff and staff leave us. Currently we are in the process of appointing a new Clerk to the Community Council and look forward to further progress delivering our ambitious business plan with a new Clerk at the helm. Good progress has been made with the Council's Business Plan and it has been another productive year for the Council which has through its Business Planning Committee brought forward some exciting projects. The largest the Council has undertaken is to retain the Community asset, Woodland Road Sports & Social Centre. When the Trust ceased operations in March the Council stepped in to ensure this important community facility remains open. Our main challenge now is to find a sustainable future for the Centre so that it can serve our Community and beyond for many years to come. The picture above shows Councillors involving pupils of Llanrhafor Primary school in wild flower planting at the Boating Lake.

The Council's annual grants award evening was in December. As local organisations are finding it difficult to find funding to keep their organisations operating, the Council is distributed in excess of £17000 to over 70 local groups, clubs and charities that operate within our community or for the benefit of those in our Community. The evening allowed these groups to showcase the works they are doing it always amazes me the range of activities that go on within our community and the people who freely give up their time to organise and support these groups to provide such activities. The night is also an opportunity to network and allows the Council and organisations to find mutual areas for collaboration

Community Policing The Council regularly meet with the Community policing team to discuss issues of concern within our area. Recently we have been made aware of thefts from homes, garden sheds and damage to vehicles. Such activities are never pleasant but at this time of year with our minds on the festive season some people have their minds on our presents and festive items. There are some things we can do to deter this; make sure doors and windows of your house and out buildings are locked; don't advertise that you are out, have a light on; do not leave valuables in open sight. More tips can be found online: www.gwent.police.uk/advice-and-guidance.

A message from Inspector Morgan: I am honoured to have been asked to write a short piece for the Llanyrafon and Croesyceiliog Council newsletter. Those of you who subscribe to Gwent Now or read Gwent Police's Facebook page will be aware of the fortnightly Blogs that I write where I update the public on the varied work that the police service in Torfaen experiences. This piece I am afraid will be rather more mundane, but it's important that the police service makes use of such publications in order to be able to engage with as much of the public as possible.

Recently I attended the Llanyrafon and Croesyceiliog Council meeting where I was able to update the councillors on work that is being undertaken to try and tackle some of the long standing issues of anti-social behaviour. I was able to tell the council that my Crime and Disorder Reduction Officer is now co-located with the Community Safety Team from Torfaen County Borough Council (TCBC) and so the daily incidents that the police service deals with that involve repeat and vulnerable victims can be shared immediately with our colleagues from TCBC ensuring that our partnership is far more efficient than it was previously.

Many of you will have been aware of OWL (On-line Watch Link) that Gwent Police used to use to share information on local crime patterns and general advice on security. Gwent Now is the new software and I urge you to sign up so that you can learn about what is happening in your area. You can sign up at: www.gwentnow.org

My neighbourhood officers have embraced Twitter and update the public on the work they are doing that day. So, if you're interested in knowing what local officers are doing during their daily duties, follow them at @gpcwmbbran.

Welfare Rights Advice Project – In times of austerity the Council has financially supported this project and host its Welfare Rights Adviser Wednesday mornings at the Woodland Road Sports and Social Centre. Torfaen residents can access the project at any time via phone and email and can attend any of the venues to see the Welfare Rights Adviser.

The adviser provides: front line advice work; benefit entitlement screening; form completion where appropriate and helps clients challenge decisions from reconsideration to through to Upper Tribunal level
